

Just so you know! . . . April 13, 2017

. . . We began our village take-down April 9. Our thanks to Barb and Carol for their assistance. It sure goes a lot faster for with good help. Didn't count as we put things away. Two years ago the numbers were 130 houses, at least a couple of hundred trees, 108 animals (didn't count the birds), and just over one thousand people.

. . . The new Village D-lights is in the mail. I haven't seen the previous issue yet. Oops, not true. A friend gave me a copy from the NCC to peruse. Haven't seen my subscription copy - yet.

. . . Father/Daughter Dance - four couples dancing - two types of going around – one large turning circle and four smaller circles turning inside. One couple per each of the smaller circles. Ten people watching. Size, nine by eleven inches, polyresin plastic blend - yes there is music. This is an animated piece from Lemax for 2017. What is polyresin plastic blend? <http://www.lemaxcollection.com/villages/> - there is a video. Kind of interesting looking, lots of action and a different look. I still like the 'Crazy Cars' better (we called them bumper cars).

. . . Taco Food Truck – we have the box, how can you lose a truck?

. . . Our Mini Things – Veggie table we purchased over ten years ago. It still looks great, colorful, and all intact. – just so you know!

. . . Guess who we saw riding around the carnival. Kind of over-dressed wouldn't you say?

... Village D-tails has been 'sent to press.' That's per an email from Pioneer Communications. They plan to ship by the end of April. I'll say nothing else.

... The Tempe Gathering has a list of seminar speakers on their site.
<http://ncc56.com/NCC25/SeminarSpeakersForWebsite.pdf>

David Spears, spears.duluth@juno.com